Laurie elected for historic fourth term

Walcha farmer Jock Laurie has been re-elected as President of the NSW Farmers' Association for a fourth term, becoming only the second President in the history of the Association to do so.

The announcement was made on the first day of the NSW Farmers' Association Annual Conference – 30 Years as One Voice, in Sydney.

Jock Laurie is a fourth generation grazier from Walcha in northern NSW, where he and his family run fine wool sheep, cross bred lambs and cattle.

Jock holds positions on a number of key agriculture related bodies, and is passionate about the development of rural NSW, and the people who make up rural communities.

Jock Laurie was re-elected unopposed.
