Media Alert: Community rallies against closure of research station

The NSW Farmers' Association Condobolin Branch is calling on local Members to attend a public rally this week to protest against the closure of the Condobolin Agricultural and Research Station.

The rally, which will take place on Friday 20 March at 2pm, will be attended by NSW Farmers' Association representatives, including Chair of the Condobolin Branch Doug Ridley.

The Association has long expressed its disapproval of the closure of agricultural research facilities, including the NSW Department of Primary Industries station at Condobolin, if an acceptable alternative means of delivering research and development cannot be found.

Members of the NSW Farmers' Association are among the community members appointed by the Minister for Primary Industries to the Condobolin Agriculture Research and Advisory Station Steering Committee, to determine if such alternative solutions exist.
