

NSW Farmers' Association and Industry & Investment NSW

Young Farmer of the Year Award 2010

ABOUT THE AWARD

The NSW Young Farmer of the Year Award is designed to recognise excellence in farming within NSW. A joint initiative by NSW Farmers' Association and Industry & Investment NSW, and supported by the Royal Agricultural Society and The Land, the awards have a particular focus on acknowledging farmers who combine sustainable environment practices with profitable production.

To further develop and improve their farming enterprise:

Young Farmer of the Year will be awarded $5,000

Finalist/s will be awarded $1,000

All finalists will also have the opportunity to undergo media and other professional development training, and be invited to form part of the NSW Farmer and Young Farmer of the Year professional network.

The awards will be presented at the NSW Farmers' Association Annual Conference dinner on July 21, 2010.

WHO CAN ENTER

The Young Farmer of the Year is open to farmers aged between 16 and 35 years. (Please note: the Farmer of the Year award is open to farmers aged over 35, and involves a separate application form.)

Both men and women are encouraged to apply. Industry & Investment NSW, NSW Farmers' Association, Royal Agricultural Society and Rural Press staff are not eligible to apply.

HOW TO ENTER

Application forms are available for download from the following websites: www.nswfarmers.org.au and www.industry.nsw.gov.au Applicants should address the four essential criteria outlined in the application form.

You can also provide additional information about your farm after addressing the essential criteria.

Please keep your application to one page per question, with one extra page for additional information.

If you are part of a family partnership please outline your areas of responsibility/achievement. You can also nominate your neighbour, client or colleague.
