

Wednesday 10 June 2009

PR/085/09

From paddock to plate - we want your produce

Are you producing the best goat meat, prawns, truffles, eggs or quince in NSW? Then we want to hear from you!

Back by popular demand, the NSW Farmers' Association is once again hosting Regional Food Fair at Annual Conference 2009, and is calling on farmers from across the State to submit their produce.

NSW Farmers' Association President Jock Laurie says the event is expected to attract 500 guests, all of whom are looking to sample gourmet delights featuring local food.

"The Regional Food Fair is designed to provide a taste of produce from across NSW, perhaps in ways people haven't tried it before," Mr Laurie said.

"As a farmer, this is the perfect opportunity to get your product on the plates in front of your most important audience: future customers.

"This year, there are twelve items on the menu and each will be served with the details of the suppliers involved. The suppliers will also be invited to attend the Regional Food Fair so that they can discuss their products with the guests.

"We are seeking a wide variety of produce, from the more traditional such as lamb, beef and prawns to the more unconventional niche markets such as olives, herbs and quail.

"So if you'd like 500 guests to sample your produce, we want to hear from you today," Mr Laurie said.

For a full list of produce needed for the Regional Food Fair, or to request further information, please call 1300 794 000 or email info@ac.org.au.

The Regional Food Fair will take place on Tuesday 28 July as part of the Association's Annual Conference.

Contact:

Ruth Redfern (Media Officer) 0429 990 218

If you no longer wish to be on our mailing list simply click here to unsubscribe. If you are having difficulty unsubscribing from this page please email us on media@nswfarmers.org.au and we will remove you from our lists.