Pork for the needy at Christmas time

NSW Farmers will join Australian Pork Limited (APL), Foodbank Australia, meat wholesaler B.E Campbell, Alliance Catering and the Salvation Army tomorrow to help cater for the less fortunate this Christmas.

Pork producers have donated more than 250 kilograms of cooked pork to assist the Salvation Army Christmas lunch on Sunday, and tomorrow those involved join together for the thanksgiving BBQ lunch.

The Christmas gesture started back in the late 1990's, by the then Chairman of NSW Farmers Pork Committee, the late Ron Pollard.

NSW Farmers President Fiona Simson and Pork Committee Chair Mal Gett will be attending the lunch tomorrow.

When: Thursday 22 December
Where: Salvation Army Streetlevel Mission
Derby Lane, Darlinghurst
Sydney
Time: 12 noon
