Calling all farmers: Rally in Canberra

The NSW Farmers' Association is calling on farmers from NSW and beyond to join them in a Rally at Parliament House.

Following Peter Spencer's 52 day hunger strike protesting against his treatment under native vegetation legislation a Rally will be held at Parliament House, Canberra on Tuesday 2 February 2010.

The date of the rally coincides with the first sitting day of Federal Parliament for 2010 and will highlight the importance of property rights across a range of areas including native vegetation, water and mining as well as 'just terms' compensation.

The NSW Farmers' Association will have a strong presence at the Rally and is encouraging Members to attend.

The rally represents a continuation of the campaign which the NSW Farmers' Association has undertaken for more than a decade on property rights.

More information on the Rally will be available in coming days from www.nswfarmers.org.au
