

Managing WorkCover – a Workshop for Pig Producers

Dubbo RSL

22nd March 2007

11.00am – 3.00pm

(Also Lismore 16/5/07 and Grenfell 13/6/07)

Free training including lunch

A group of pig producers got together to see if they could learn from each other on how to better manage their workers compensation issues. These producers identified 100 tips on what to do better and from this a training program for pig producers has been developed.

In this workshop, pig producers will learn about:

- injury management
- everyday business management relevant to workers compensation
- calculating premiums

Producers will leave the workshop with a tool kit which contains:

- a pocket guide
- a spreadsheet calculator
- checklists
- contacts lists
- light duties lists
- job descriptions
- return to work plans
- form letters to health service providers
- the Australian Pork Limited Workplace Health and Safety policy and procedures electronic manual

A professional trainer will deliver the information assisted by some of the initiating producers and a health care professional. An OH&S advisor from APL will also attend.

The workshop is sponsored by NSW Farmers Association, Prime Super, Australian Pork Limited and Elanco Animal Health.

Places limited to 20.
