

Wednesday 4 February 2009

PR/006/09

Media Alert: Young farmers to discuss the future at Forbes

The NSW Farmers' Association is reminding all young farmers that the Young Farmers Committee is holding its Annual General Meeting (AGM) at the Forbes Rugby Club on Friday 13 February.

The AGM is designed to bring together young people aged 18-35 who are involved in farming and agriculture to discuss the big issues facing the industry.

The AGM will include talks from key speakers, including President Jock Laurie, sponsors and an alternative health and lifestyle expert. The talks commence at 10am and are open to Members and non-Members, while the AGM will get underway at 5pm, and is open to Members (non-Members will be invited to observe).

A barbeque lunch and dinner will be provided, and the cost of the day is free for Members and $30 for non-Members. A social event at the Young Farmers tent, including a free barbeque for those who attended the AGM, will be held the next day during the Bedgerebong Races.

Date: Friday 13 February 2009
Time: 10am - Talks from key speakers
5pm - AGM
Location: Forbes Rugby Club, Forbes

Contact:

Ruth Redfern (Media Officer) 0429 990 218

If you no longer wish to be on our mailing list simply click here to unsubscribe. If you are having difficulty unsubscribing from this page please email us on media@nswfarmers.org.au and we will remove you from our lists.